The accommodation comprises

Kingsland House an ancestral home and iconic building in the town of Burnham On Crouch run as a well known and respected business, since 1853. The property was sold to the current vendors who also have strong local ties to the town. They fell in love with the building and have sympathetically modernised and interior designed the house to their needs and continue to further improve the property.

This gorgeous five bedroom detached Victorian property has a wealth of accommodation all of which offers incredible versatility, whether as a fantastic family home, dual living possibilities, or even the most amazing guest house or airbnb subject to any consents required.

The ground floor has an impressive entrance hallway, spacious dining room, sitting room, a fantastic hub of the home open plan kitchen and garden room, lounge which has access to the cellar, large utility room and cloakroom w/c, shop and office.

The first floor has five superb double bedrooms a family bathroom, shower room and a door leading to the extremely large and impressive principal suite which also has a second staircase down to the lounge. Externally a private walled south facing rear garden to relax and enjoy, private electric gates to the parking and a very large barn with residential status, ready and waiting to be converted to your requirements (stp).

Entrance hallway

Entrance door with above light window and Kingsland House motif to the tiled hallway. Stairs to the first floor with recess below, wall mounted alarm keypad, radiator with decorative cover and down lighting. PLEASE NOTE the property has gorgeous high ceilings throughout as expected from this era and we would urge you to pay particular attention to the photography and video tour, to truly appreciate the quality, love care and attention that has been given to the property by the current vendors.
