The Old Press Unit 1a to the Rear of 40 Henley Street, Stratford upon Avon

Location:

Heading South East into Stratford down the Birmingham Road enter Guild St and the public car park to the site is located on your right hand side just before the turning into Union Street.

Description:

The property is accessed either via the pedestrian walkway from the rear of Hobsons Tea Rooms on Stratford's famous Henley Street or via the pay and display car park off Guild Street. The building is a period red brick and traditional pitched tiled roof with dormer windows to the roof with various window and door openings to the front elevation. It is believed that the building dates back to the late eighteenth century as a burgage plot to 1 Henley Street. The property was sympathetically refurbished in 2024/25 maintaining some main of the historical features of the building.

The property is accessed via a new glazed door which leads into the following internal accommodation: From the entrance door is the main open plan workspace and on the left-hand side is a room that leads to a newly fitted disabled access toilet with white cross bond tiles and new sanitary wear. There is a new kitchen room located next door to the toilet with white base units, grey worktop with kitchen sink and tap. At the other end of the main workspace there is also a useful cupboard and a door leading to the first floor. At the top of the stairs the door opens into an open plan area, off this is a useful storage cupboard and you then walk through an opening to the main open workspace with exposed trusses and beams along with a fitted kitchen with white base units, worktop and sink. The roof has plenty of natural light from the dormer and roof light in either elevation. The floors are exposed floor boards ready to take a tenant's floor coverings and the property has a three-phase electrical supply from a meter cupboard situated downstairs.
