General Description

Wayside Cottage is steeped in history, dating back three hundred years the property was formerly two workers' cottages, converted almost a hundred and fifty years ago into a reading room and socialising space for the local residents. Now Wayside Cottage stands proudly on the edge of the village with far reaching views over local farmland and boasts a clever mix of character and modern conveniences.

Location

This sought after village offers an impressive host of local amenities including outstanding rated Ofsted primary and pre-school, village shop, pub, fantastic walks and cycle routes including direct access to the 'Cloud Trail'. Worthington is conveniently situated within easy commuting distance of Derby, Nottingham, Leicester and Birmingham, offering superb links to the M1, M42, East Midlands Airport and East Midlands Parkway train station.

Accommodation Summary

Internally the property boasts character in abundance within the lounge there is a feature cast iron burning stove, with an opening through to the split-level dining area with doors out into the garden and through to the kitchen, a rare feature for a period cottage to benefit from open plan living. The kitchen is an addition to the original house, constructed by Keller Homes and crafted by Charnwood kitchens, the property now benefits from a bespoke kitchen fitted with high end appliances, complete with a vaulted ceiling and Velux window. Further to the ground floor is a rear porch area, leading to a covered area to the rear and further to the lounge is a more formal sitting room with a traditional open grated fireplace and French doors to the garden. Upstairs there are three good sized bedrooms and a family bathroom.

Wayside sits on a generous corner plot with a beautiful south-facing landscaped rear garden mainly laid to lawn with several seating areas, raised borders and mature hedging to surround. Within the rear courtyard, there is a brick outbuilding and external utility/boiler room, with space for a workshop/large garden shed. The property also offers off road parking for multiple vehicles and offers huge extension potential stpp.
