It's a home that can adapt to every stage of family life and lends itself to entertaining, with a generous private garden and views over paddocks, open countryside beyond.

A Picture-Perfect Position

Converted around 20 years ago, this is one of just a handful of barns perfectly positioned within farmland and paddocks just outside Gorleston. The tranquility here has to be experienced – it's such a peaceful setting and feels so rural, yet it's deceptive as the barns are close to amenities and only ten minutes from the beach. The owners fell in love with the character here, the space and the sense of serenity and seclusion and it's been a very happy home to them ever since. They've made lots of memories, throwing parties to celebrate special occasions, or just for the fun of gathering friends and family. Certainly the barn lends itself to socialising, as it does to modern lifestyles, effortlessly adapting and accommodating every need.

KEY FEATURES

Sociable Spaces

On the ground floor, you have a stunning spacious entrance hall with a double height ceiling and galleried landing, that sets the tone for what's to come as you explore the rest of the barn. To one side is a magnificent dual aspect kitchen breakfast room, with double doors to a sunny, sheltered courtyard, so you can let the light pour in, plus a central island and plenty of space for seating and dining. This is the hub of family life and brilliant for entertaining. There's a large formal sitting room with a wonderful fireplace housing a woodburner for those cold winter evenings, while the bifold doors, a recent addition from the current owners, provide a comfortable flow between the barn and garden in summer. There are two further rooms on this floor that could be bedrooms, with a full bathroom between them. One is currently a formal dining room and the other a bedroom suitable for any guests with limited mobility. Upstairs, the principal bedroom has its own shower room, as does the second bedroom – and there's a third smaller but well-proportioned room there too, so it's very flexible and you can have a home office, playroom, studio or whatever else it is that you're looking for.

Coast And Countryside

Outside there's a large double garage attached to the barn, offering annexe potential. In addition to the private courtyard outside the kitchen, you have a charming garden to the front of the barn. Here, there's plenty of room for al fresco dining on the patio or soaking up the sun, with a large lawn where children can play. There's also a good size summerhouse, which has power connected along with a hot tub for relaxing and star gazing! Sitting out here you're completely private and you see plenty of birds and beautiful clear skies. Beyond the barns there are horses grazing in their paddocks and lots of open fields. You have wonderful walks on the doorstep, with Lound Lakes a favourite destination of the owners. They also love heading to Gorleston beach. There's very little passing traffic along the road, but when you want to get out and about you'll find it easy. You're close to the A47 and A143 and the historic city of Norwich is only around 30 minutes from here.
