Property Introduction

This substantial detached house, ideal for family occupation, is being offered for sale with for the first time since being built for the present owner in 1991.

On the first floor, there are four double-size bedrooms and a family bathroom, the ground floor benefits from a lounge, a generous kitchen/dining room and a shower room/WC. There is a utility room off the kitchen area, the property is warmed by a gas combination boiler supplying radiators and there is double glazing throughout.

Approached via a tarmac driveway, there are attractive low-maintenance gardens to the front with ample parking and turning. The large double garage is integral with the house and to the rear, the garden is largely paved with patio seating and barbecue area.

In summary, a large family home requiring a closer inspection to be fully appreciated and viewing our interactive virtual tour is strongly advised prior to arranging a closer inspection.

Location

Situated on the Falmouth side of the town and within walking distance of the town centre and schooling, Redruth offers a mix of local and national shopping outlets, there is a mainline Railway Station with direct links to London Paddington and the north of England and the A30 trunk road will be found within a mile. As previously mentioned, schooling is available for all ages within walking distance, Redruth also houses 'Kresen Kernow' which contains the world's largest collection of Cornish archive material and is a sought-after location for those researching their family history. Falmouth on the south coast, which is Cornwall's university town, is within nine miles, Truro, the county town of Cornwall, is within eleven miles and Portreath on the north coast, which is noted for its sandy beach and harbour, is within six miles.
