Property Introduction

The grounds are laid mainly to lawn but are thoughtfully landscaped offering a good range of mature shrubs with the plot being surrounded by mature trees, giving it a great deal of privacy and seclusion.

The main house 'Aneth Lowen' is believed to date back to the 19th century and over the years has been extended, yet retains a great deal of its original charm and characteristic features you would expect from this period.

Benefiting from an oil fired heating system and double glazed windows and doors, the accommodation has been tastefully presented with the advantage of an adjoining self-contained annexe. Accessed from the conservatory is an elevated patio overlooking the gardens with steps down to a concrete driveway leading to ample parking facilities.

Both properties have their own independent access and the second property 'Little Lowen' is again extremely well presented and benefits from a bottle gas central heating system and double glazed windows and doors. A generous entrance porch gives access to a lounge with double doors opening to an impressive kitchen/diner offering a good range of fitted units with a double glazed door giving access to the enclosed garden. Additional ground floor accommodation comprises utility room accessing a cloakroom, whilst to the first floor are two double bedrooms along with a modern fitted bathroom.

The gardens are without doubt one of the main features of the property with views towards Carn Brea itself. Upon entering the driveway the ground rises to the left hand side and enjoys a wonderful elevated vista over the rest of the gardens which has various seating areas, therefore ideal positions for maximising the sunshine. Surrounding the plot area mature trees screening the property and the gardens would be considered an ideal opportunity for keen gardeners to utilise.
