Property Introduction

Offering three double size bedrooms with the principal bedroom benefiting from an en-suite, there is a large triple aspect lounge/diner which is some 31' long and opens into a conservatory overlooking the rear garden.

The kitchen/breakfast room has a wide range of units with black granite working surfaces, there is a utility room and the garage is integral with the property. Heating is provided by a gas combination boiler supplying radiators and there is double glazing.

To the outside, double gates open onto an extensive brick paviour driveway offering parking and turning which is complemented by a lawned garden interspersed with mature shrubs and trees.

To the rear the enclosed garden features a paved patio ideal for outside entertaining and there is an extensive lawn which features a pond and summerhouse. Leading off from this part of the garden there is a dividing hedge/shrub line which gives access to a further enclosed lawned garden with mature hedging.

In summary, Low Meadow is a substantial bungalow set within a very large plot, requiring some largely cosmetic updating, viewing our interactive virtual tour is strongly recommended prior to arranging a closer inspection.

Location

Redruth is ideally located in West Cornwall for access to the A30, there are mainline rail links to London and the north of England and the north coast at Portreath, with its sandy beach and active harbour on the north coast, is within five miles.

The south coast will be found within eleven miles at Falmouth which is also the university town for Cornwall.

Truro, the administrative and main shopping centre for the county, is also within a short commute.

Redruth has a mix of local and national shopping outlets, there is schooling for all ages within walking distance and it houses the archive of Cornish history at Kresen Kernow.
