Property Introduction

Being situated in a tucked-away location in Camborne, this three bedroom end-terrace property is being sold chain-free and is believed to have once been part of the former Count House for the area before being divided into three properties.

Internally, the accommodation benefits from uPVC double glazed windows and doors complemented by a gas fired central heating system and briefly comprises of an entrance porch, lounge, three first floor bedrooms and a family bathroom.

To the front the property features exposed granite and there is an enclosed lawned garden with a pedestrian gateway to the side giving access to two off-road parking spaces.

Location

Located in an ideal position for the shops and amenities of Camborne as well as Redruth, the property is also just a moment's driving distance away from the main A30 trunk road.

Camborne is an historic town and has a rich industrial past. Reminders of this are evidenced with the former engine house being a prominent feature around Camborne and Redruth. Within the town centre are a number of well known high street shops as well as independent traders, while also having a mainline Railway Station to London Paddington plus primary and secondary schools.

For those who enjoy water sports, the north coast is popular for surfing with their sandy beaches and picturesque clifftop walks being found at Portreath, Porthtowan and Perranporth. The cathedral city of Truro is approximately twelve miles distant being the main centre in Cornwall for business and commerce.
