A well presented and deceptively large semi-detached period house situated about 1/2 a mile from Brixham town centre and harbourside, with it's vibrant atmosphere and abundance of shops and bars. With a quirky layout split across several mid-levels. There are two excellent sized bay fronted double bedrooms on the ground floor, with a central staircase taking you to the living accommodation on the first floor. A very light and bright space with a large, bay-fronted lounge/dining room to the front and breakfast room, kitchen and family bathroom to the rear. The lounge is a very cosy room with feature stone fireplace and flows well from the the dining space before, again with a feature fireplace.

The kitchen is modern and of high quality, with a smart skylight attracting even more daylight, and opening out through french doors to the rear courtyard. The breakfast room makes for a useable, social space which is light and bright, and makes way for a characterful staircase leading up the 4th bedroom or perfect home-office/study space. The family bathroom is also off of the breakfast room - again a stylish and characterful three-piece bathroom suite. There is also a separate WC to service the living spaces. The master bedroom, also located on the first floor is a super room, a good sized double, with plenty of storage and a smart, ensuite shower room just off.

Outside, the rear courtyard is a private and very sunny space off the kitchen, with a fabulous dining /seating arrangement is a great spot. There are steps down to a locked utility room/store and the carport/workshop, with access directly out to Burton Street.
