THE AREAS LEADING ESTATE AGENT

Situated in the heart of one of Cheshire's most beautiful and picturesque villages, this handsome Grade II listed cottage presents buyers with the opportunity to undertake a bespoke project of modernisation and refurbishment.

Originally constructed in the 19th century for Rowland Egerton-Warburton, during the Victorian era this deceptively spacious three storey Grade II listed property started life as the old Police house giving it a commanding position in the centre of the village.

The property is approached over a traditional cobble-stone pathway leading to the delightful entrance door with three attractive leaded windows. Behind the house there is walled courtyard leading to a large private well-established garden with elevated views over the village and towards the Grade I listed St Mary and All Saints village church.

Accommodation is laid over three floors, extending to approximately 1,259 sq.ft. but with the necessary guidance the potential to reconfigure the internal layout would result in a fully refurbished and more aesthetically pleasing configuration. The opportunity to expose and incorporate the original cell bar windows within a bespoke fitted kitchen will surely appeal to buyers!

With massive potential for refurbishment, extension, and modernisation (subject to the required consent), this property represents a rare opportunity for the right buyer to establish themselves at the heart of one of the UK's most prestigious locations, regularly being voted one of the UK's most idyllic villages and often used as a set location for film and TV shows.

LOCATION

The village of Great Budworth, with its historic sandstone church, picturesque cottages, and narrow cobbled streets, has long been regarded as one of the most attractive and desirable of Cheshire's rural villages, and is designated as a conservation area. The village is steeped in history dating back to Norman times and is close to the stately home of Arley Hall, the estate of which the village was once part. The 'English village' atmosphere is intact and has a wealth of leisure and club facilities including tennis, sailing, and bowling. Various village social activities take place throughout the year. Amenities within the village include an excellent gastro pub, Parish Hall, and ice cream farm. The village also boasts a primary school and one of Cheshire's leading independent private day schools, Cransley.
