DESCRIPTION

This period mid terraced family home has been improved in recent years to create superbly proportioned living space presented to a high standard.

The accommodation is typical of the era with plenty of the original character and charm still evident. Towards the front of the property a separate living room benefits from a focal point of a log burner set upon a flagged hearth with timber mantle and with sash double glazed bay window. Towards the rear is a separate dining room with recessed fireplace with tiled hearth and window overlooking the rear garden plus stripped floorboards. The ground floor accommodation is completed by an open plan living dining kitchen with living area leading onto the working kitchen fitted with a range of high gloss units and with door to the side. From the hallway there is also access to the cellars providing two large main chambers, one used as a workshop and the other currently as a utility. The cellars are ripe for conversion subject to the relevant permissions being obtained.

To the first floor there are three excellent double bedrooms serviced by the family bathroom/WC fitted with a contemporary suite. The accommodation is completed by the second floor which provides a fourth double bedroom and access to a large eaves storage space.

Externally to the front of the property gated access leads onto the courtyard garden with well stocked flowerbeds whilst to the rear and accessed via the living dining kitchen the gardens incorporate flagged seating area with gardens beyond laid with artificial grass.

The location is ideal being within easy reach of Altrincham town centre and with John Leigh park on the doorstep and also lying in the catchment area of highly regarded primary and secondary schools.

A deceptively spacious home where viewing is essential to appreciate the accommodation on offer.
