DESCRIPTION

One of the former premises of Altrincham Preparatory School which continues to provide educational services from the adjacent school building.

We understand the property to have originally been a pair of houses which were combined and converted into an educational establishment many years ago.

Built in the Victorian era this fine building retains much of the original period architecture and charm and offers a rare opportunity to re-model and perhaps extend (subject to the appropriate approval) or restoration to two individual dwellings.

In recent years considerable expenditure has been incurred upon improving the facilities and the property would therefore also be suitable for a variety of purposes although specifically excluding education or nursery for children aged 11 or under.

There is vehicular access to the rear via Narrow Walk and the existing open boundary would be specifically defined by continuation of walls up to the adjacent Bellfield.

The location is one of the finest within the conservation area, well placed for both the village of Hale with its range of individual shops and restaurants and the vibrant centre of Altrincham and Metrolink station providing a commuter service into Manchester and surrounding areas.

The attached floorplan and schedule of photographs will indicate the extent of the accommodation which extends to approximately 650 sq mtrs/7000 sq ft.

Full details of the site, tenure and proposals to create Bank Place as a self contained unit will be provided by our clients Solicitor.
