Pendleton Cottage is a beautiful stone-built 3-bedroom farmhouse located in the highly sought-after village of Alderwasley. The property also features two detached 1-bedroom holiday cottages of which one has planning for a granny annexe, an American barn with 4 stables, a workshop, and a modern garden office with air source heat pump, enviable views across the formal garden and fields, all within circa 7 acres of grounds.

The village of Alderwasley is a short distance from the beautiful Peak District town of Wirksworth and just a few miles from the award-winning market town of Belper. It has an abundance of footpaths through wooded hills and valleys. For those wanting to relax with a drink, the Bear Inn and Hotel is just a short walk away.

The current owners have updated the property to create a stunning family home and business. With a wealth of original features alongside an open plan kitchen, modern bathrooms, beautiful interiors and utility room, the property is the perfect amalgamation of old and new.

Located down a peaceful and quiet lane, Pendleton Cottage is accessed via wooden gates that lead into a central courtyard with ample off-road parking that also provides access to the American barn and the two holiday lets which also boast additional private parking areas.

Ground Floor

The entrance to Pendleton Cottage leads into the bright and spacious dining room with dual aspect views. The dining room also provides access via double doors to the newly constructed orangery-style conservatory that overlooks the formal garden and home office. Located to the left of the dining room, also via patio doors, is the modern country kitchen with exposed stone feature wall with postcard window that looks into the living room. The kitchen also boasts granite counter tops, lots of storage space, a Rangemaster cooker, and a large centre island that is a great place to congregate whilst preparing dinner or entertaining friends.

To the left of the dining room is the fantastic living room with a new modern log burner and high ceilings with exposed beams. The room is flooded with an abundance of natural light from windows on both sides of the room. Located off the living room is a useful study area that leads through to a good-sized utility room, W/C, and boot room - all of which have stone-tiled floors.

First Floor

The first floor can be accessed via the main staircase or the secondary staircase located in the dining room. The main staircase leads up to the family bathroom which has a heated chrome towel rail, a large recessed mirror with spotlights, and a bath with overhead shower. Next to the family bathroom is the first of the three double bedrooms which features two built-in wardrobes.

The second double bedroom has dual aspect views across the fields and the best feature is the large Velux window that frames the fields to the rear of the property. The primary bedroom also boasts built-in wardrobes, dual aspect views, and an ensuite with vanity sink, a modern backlit mirror, half tiles, and a bath with overhead shower.

Outside

The property is set in secure and well-defined grounds measuring circa 7 acres that is split into 2 well-drained fields ideal for equestrian use. The top field has a spring fed water supply, and the lower fields have a trough. Located on the land is a large American barn with four bay stables within, an orchard, an enclosed area for chickens to roam around freely and a fenced vegetable garden. There is also a further large workshop located by the chicken pens.

South-west-facing formal gardens to the rear of the house have been landscaped and provide an excellent area to enjoy this splendid countryside setting and are separated from the fields by the recently installed estate fencing. There is also a brand new Clearview greenhouse.

For those working from home, there is a large modern office located within the garden with lovely views and its own air-source heat pump for those cooler months.

Also located in the grounds are two detached one-bedroom holiday cottages offering the owners a good revenue stream. Furthermore, the larger cottage has planning permission for use as a granny annexe. Further information regarding bookings and income can be accessed via the agent.
