The Cottage

Are you looking for a rural or semi-rural home with period cottage appeal, but with the added benefit of modern convenience? This four/five-bedroom property is ideally located just three-quarters of a mile from Perranporth's stunning golden sandy beach and on the edge of the hamlet of Bolingey.

At first glance, this home has all the charm you would expect from a Cornish cottage, with its whitewashed exterior, cottage-style gardens, beamed ceilings and Cornish stone fireplace with open fire. However, being constructed in the 1980s, it also offers the benefits of a modern home: higher ceilings, oil-fired central heating, larger windows flooding the rooms with natural light, cavity walls, and generously sized living and sleeping accommodation.

On the ground floor, there is a spacious living room with open fire and French doors opening onto the secluded gardens, a separate dining room, a compact yet well-fitted kitchen, a utility room and a shower room. Upstairs, you will find the family bathroom and four bedrooms, three of which are good-sized doubles.

In addition to the main accommodation, there is a versatile outbuilding that makes an excellent guest suite, home office or gym. Currently arranged as a bedroom, sitting room and shower room, it provides a great extra living space. In front of this, there is parking for two cars.

The gardens, set to the side and rear, are beautifully landscaped with mature shrubs and flower borders. Brick-paved paths wind through from the seating areas to an allotment space with greenhouse, all this is arranged around a central pond that creates a tranquil and welcoming atmosphere.
