Location

Little France is a popular residential suburb of Edinburgh lying approximately four miles south of the city centre, making it an ideal location for those working at the Edinburgh Royal Infirmary, the BioQuarter, or commuting into the city centre. Excellent amenities are available in neighbouring Liberton, including two major supermarkets, a chemist, a post office, a bakery, library, pubs, and a restaurant, as well as a selection of independent retailers. More extensive shopping facilities, range of High Street shops, and 24/7 gym are available in nearby Cameron Toll Shopping Centre and due to the area's close proximity to the city centre, worldclass shopping facilities, restaurants and bars are all within easy reach. Residents of Little France are spoiled for choice when it comes to outdoor activities, with an abundance of parks, scenic green spaces, including Craigmillar Castle, and golf courses all within easy reach. Schooling is well represented from nursery to senior levels and there are excellent bus services granting access to the city centre (7, 8, 33, 51, X95), airport, whilst also being conveniently placed for swift access to both the City Bypass and the M8/M9 motorway networks.
