A HOME OF HERITAGE AND CHARACTER

A distinguished Grade II listed residence of historic significance, offering refined period charm, generous living space, and a sought-after location in the heart of Ipswich.

Historic Detail and Exceptional Space

Built in 1850 and steeped in local history, this exceptional Grade II listed residence is a rare opportunity to own a piece of Ipswich's architectural heritage. While a timber bearing the date 1634 is visible above the dining room, it is believed to have been reclaimed from another structure, with the true construction date proudly displayed on a beam outside the sitting room. Crafted by the skilled carpenter and Freemason Arthur Ringham, whose legacy lives on in the nearby Ringham Road, the property showcases many original period features, including hand-worked gables and fleur-de-lis ceiling details that reflect his artisanal craftsmanship.

The property offers generous and versatile living space across three floors, enhanced by a spacious, tanked cellar divided into three sections, each with power, lighting, and heating, ideal for a home office, studio, or additional storage. The character-rich interiors include oak panelling in both the dining and sitting rooms, a box bay window, and a fireplace surround believed to have originated from Christchurch Mansion. The sitting room also benefits from a log burner and decorative ceiling features, while the dining room retains the original front door, now cleverly concealed.

The light filled kitchen/breakfast room features tiled flooring, a built in oven, induction AEG hob, and ample space for freestanding appliances. The layout also includes a convenient cloakroom and access to the extensive cellar. Upstairs, the principal bedroom offers built-in storage and an en-suite sink room, with scope to extend by incorporating adjacent space. A further two bedrooms are situated on this floor along with a family bathroom and shower room. The second floor provides two bedrooms and built-in storage, making this home well suited for growing families or those in need of flexible accommodation.

A charming studio, complete with vaulted ceiling, heating, and its own bathroom, provides ideal space for guests, home working, or independent living...

LOCATION

The gardens, set within a 0.23-acre plot, are mature and not directly overlooked, offering a sense of privacy rarely found so close to the town centre. A garage with power and light lies at the front, alongside driveway parking, while to the rear, a second garage/workshop with double gates provides additional secure parking for up to four vehicles.

The property enjoys a prime position within the vibrant and historic town of Ipswich, the county town of Suffolk. Nestled on the River Orwell and boasting a rich maritime heritage, Ipswich is one of England’s oldest towns, blending centuries of history with a lively, modern atmosphere. Residents benefit from a thriving arts and cultural scene, excellent amenities, and green open spaces—all just a short walk or drive from the property. The town centre, easily accessible on foot, offers a wide range of independent shops, high street brands, cafes, and restaurants, as well as the Buttermarket and Sailmakers shopping centres. The historic waterfront area, with its marina, converted warehouses, and contemporary dining options, provides a picturesque setting for riverside walks, weekend brunches, or evening drinks. Ipswich is particularly well-regarded for its green spaces, with Christchurch Park and its elegant mansion just 1.5 miles from the property. The park is a hub for community events and a peaceful retreat for walking, picnicking, or enjoying the seasonal gardens. Families will appreciate the proximity to highly regarded schools and healthcare facilities, including Ipswich Hospital. For commuters, Ipswich offers excellent transport links, with mainline rail services to London Liverpool Street taking approximately 70 minutes. The A12 and A14 are both easily accessible, connecting Ipswich to the wider East Anglia region and beyond.

Located in the heart of Suffolk, Ipswich is also an ideal base for exploring the county’s celebrated countryside and coastline. The charming market towns of Woodbridge and Framlingham, the heritage coastline of Aldeburgh and Southwold, and the tranquil walking trails of Constable Country are all within easy reach.
