

PERFECTLY PLACED

The village of Rushmere St Andrew is in the eastern part of Ipswich, dominated by the beautiful open space of Rushmere Heath. The Rushmere Golf Club is located here and the common is popular with walkers, runners and cyclists. Rushmere has a football and rugby club and the Grade II* listed parish church of St Andrew's. With stunning views of the open heathland to the front on a plot of about half an acre is this handsome detached house, built in the 1920's and significantly extended and extensively modernised. The present owners bought the house twelve years ago, attracted by the incredible views over the heath, the large mature back garden and the huge potential for improvement. Since moving in they have put heart and soul into modernising the house and remodelling the interior entirely to give better flow, rebuilt the family room to the rear and added in bi-fold doors, sliding doors and a glass roof. The interior was created in conjunction with an interior designer using Farrow and Ball paints in many rooms.

A porch with an oversized wooden bespoke front door and smart black and white Moroccan-style tiling leads, via a pair of double doors, into the impressive entrance hallway/reception area. With wood effect porcelain tiled flooring that flows throughout the entire ground floor and a light filled interior. This is a stunning space making clever use of this part of the house, the tv/entertaining room can easily accomodate a sizeable sofa and has a superb media wall with fitted cabinets and shelves. A multi-use room, it is perfect for quiet evenings in with the family or full-on entertaining. To the right is the snug which could be used as an accessible ground floor bedroom. To the left of the entrance hallway is the useful home office with views to the front of the property.

The rear of the house is taken up with the magnificent dining /family room/kitchen with its skylights, glass atrium roof and double height glass doors. Spacious, contemporary and inviting, it has been designed so that the space is zoned, yet still open plan. The space includes a dining area with soothing green walls and the family room benefits from skylights and sliding doors leading out to the garden. In the summer, these can be left open to bring the outside in and allow yet more natural light to pour in. The stunning kitchen, designed and built by Touchwood UK has attractive cabinets painted in white and navy blue and white quartz worktops. There is a fabulous, large island with walnut base units, white quartz worktop, moulded quartz sink, multi functional Quooker hot tap and pendant lighting above. All the integrated appliances are Miele including a cooker and microwave with heating drawer, six pan induction hob and extractor, large family oven, second oven and dishwasher. Vertical blinds have been fitted in all the cavities in the bi-folds in the kitchen area and the sliding doors in the family room and they are fully remote controlled. Next door, the utility room, also designed and installed by Touchwood UK, has a second sink and dishwasher, as well as plumbing for a washing machine and plenty of extra storage with a door out to the garden. A stylish contemporary wet room, home gym and an integrated garage with an electric up and over composite door which can be remotely operated, complete the ground floor accommodation.
