DESCRIPTION

Clovers is a timeless example of English rural architecture — a Grade II listed, timber-framed cottage dating back to the 17th century, originally formed from three separate dwellings. Today, it has been seamlessly unified and sympathetically modernised to create a highly individual four-bedroom family home, where character and comfort coexist in perfect balance.

Set in the peaceful hamlet of Stableford, between the villages of Worfield and Badger, the property sits discreetly within approximately half an acre of meticulously landscaped gardens. Surrounded by open countryside and accessible via a shared private driveway, it offers both complete privacy and excellent connectivity, with Bridgnorth just 10 minutes away and Wolverhampton reachable in under 30 minutes.

Upon entering the home, visitors are welcomed by a quarry-tiled boot room, which serves as a practical entrance lobby and provides access to a ground-floor shower room, WC, storage cupboards and utility space. This thoughtful flow continues into the spacious kitchen-breakfast room, a highlight of the home with its bespoke oak cabinetry, granite worktops, Belfast sink, and integrated electric Aga. The space is flooded with natural light through dual aspect windows and features exposed beams and a generous walk-in pantry, making it the quintessential country kitchen.
