You may also be interested to know that, during the lake's excavation, a huge dinosaur skeleton (an Ichthyosaurus) was uncovered. Thought to be 150 million years old, you can now see the skeleton at Milton Keynes Central Library.

Also, just over a mile from the development is the Nuffield Health Fitness & Wellbeing centre at Kents Hill Park. Here, as well as a gym, a swimming pool and squash and badminton courts, you can make the most of both personal training and beauty therapy services. The centre also runs a range of exercise classes for all levels.

Just a few miles outside Milton Keynes is Bletchley Park. Visit restored code breaking huts, where Enigma messages were decrypted and learn about the impact they had on World War II.

Through interactive exhibits, hear the stories of the men and women who worked here, and step inside the spaces that housed the magnificent Turing-Welchman Bombe machines. You can also see recreations of Alan Turing's office and the wartime garages in the Mansion, complete with WWII vehicles.

All within a 20-minute drive of Milton Keynes are the manor houses of Woburn Abbey, Ascott House and Claydon House. At Woburn, marvel at one of the most important private art collections in the world and stroll among its extensive gardens and fine antiques centre. Ascott House is home to some exceptional collections, including paintings, furniture and oriental porcelain. And, at Claydon House, enjoy the tranquil countryside setting and explore its lavish 18th century interiors.
