The Property

This fine Victorian town house, listed Grade II, dates back from circa 1860, with a more modern extension to the ground floor providing an open plan dining/family room off the kitchen. This superb and flexible everyday living space is flooded with natural light.

The property still retains numerous character features, including a wonderful Minton tiled floor to the reception hall, high skirting boards, sash windows, as well as splendid marble fireplaces to the two principal reception rooms. Versatility is also provided by the adjoining self-contained annexe, with its own independent access, and ideally suited as a home office, guest suite, or self-contained living space.

On the ground floor, an entrance vestibule opens into a central reception hall with Minton tiled floor, cloakroom, living room, sitting room, rear cloaks, study, and a lovely fitted kitchen with central island. This benefits from a pantry/utility and also then leads into the family/dining room, with double glazed bifold doors opening out onto the south-facing rear gardens.

From the first floor landing, there is a superb master bedroom suite, served by an en suite dressing area and shower room, two further double bedrooms and a family bathroom. On the second floor, a landing leads off to bedroom four, which is served by a generous en suite shower, in addition to double bedrooms five and six.

The self-contained annexe is a super addition with independent access from the front driveway. An access door leads along a covered walkway to the self-contained two storey annexe comprising a shower room, open plan sitting room with kitchen and stairs rising to a first floor double bedroom. Double doors lead out to the rear garden. This flexible space offers excellent accommodation, as well as a second kitchen for those larger dinner parties!

Boasting a wealth of period features, this property also offers flexible, everyday living space
