Location

Positioned along High Road in Gorleston, this property enjoys a convenient setting within walking distance of the town centre, local shops, and well-regarded schools. The popular Gorleston beach is just over half a mile away, offering a scenic coastal spot for walks, relaxation, and seasonal events. Residents benefit from excellent public transport links, easy access to the James Paget University Hospital, and a wide range of amenities including cafes, supermarkets, and leisure facilities. The area also offers several green spaces and recreational spots, with Cliff Park and Gorleston Golf Club nearby. With easy road links to Great Yarmouth and the A47, it's well placed for those commuting or exploring the Norfolk coastline.

High Road, Gorleston

Step through the front door into a welcoming entrance hall, finished with tiled flooring and practical understairs storage. From here, you'll find four generously sized reception rooms offering a wealth of character and versatility. Two feature fireplaces, and one room includes decorative coving, ceiling rose, and sash windows that add a traditional charm. One of the rear reception rooms flows through French doors into the garden, creating a lovely indoor-outdoor connection, while another links directly to the kitchen.

The kitchen itself is impressively long, with integrated appliances, a built-in oven and grill with four-ring hob, and a charming feature pump that hints at the property's history. A breakfast bar and a unique porthole-style window add extra interest. An open archway leads into an additional hall area with more storage and a stable-style door into the conservatory, which overlooks the rear garden.
