West Winch is a substantial village situated around 3 miles to the South of King's Lynn accessed via the A10 trunk road. Benefitting from various local amenities, the village provides a convenience store, Post Office, primary school, social club and St Marys Church. A further abundance of amenities including national retailers and supermarkets can be found on the nearby Hardwick Retail Park and in King's Lynn town centre, both around a 5-10 minute drive. There are good transport links in and out of the area by rail and road. The Hardwick interchange gives access to the A47 to Norwich and Peterborough, A10 to Ely and Cambridge and A149 to the renowned Norfolk coastline with wide sandy beaches, well known chalk cliffs of Hunstanton and Royal Sandringham with acres of parkland. For those requiring connections to the capital, King's Lynn railway station provides regular, mainline services to London Kings Cross also via Ely & Cambridge. The town of King's Lynn, once part of the Hanseatic League, is enriched with history with two impressive market squares, customs house and what is understood to be one of the oldest working theatres in Britain.

Offered to the market chain free, 19 Pine Tree Chase is generously sized 2 bedroom detached bungalow on a most attractive corner plot.
