Wiggenhall St Germans is a well served village situated around 5 miles to the South of King's Lynn. Split in half by the River Great Ouse, this location offers rural village living whilst still benefitting from amenities including village store, primary school, post office, village hall and a public house. There are ample opportunities for walks around the lanes, fields and along the river bank with local water sport opportunities on offer at the nearby Ouse Amateur Sailing Club. The nearby, historic market town of King's Lynn further provides residents with a range of shopping retailers and eateries, both in the historic centre and on the nearby Hardwick Retail Park, positioned on the Southern edge of the town. For transport links, the Hardwick interchange connects West Norfolk to the A47 trunk road to Norwich & Peterborough (both around 1 hour), the A10 to Cambridgeshire and A17 to Lincolnshire. King's Lynn is also fortunate to benefit from a mainline railway providing links to London Kings Cross via Ely & Cambridge. The renowned, outstanding Norfolk coastline is within easy reach via the A149 coast road with the seaside town of Hunstanton being around a 20-30 minute drive. 32 Mill Road is a semi-detached cottage situated on the edge of Wiggenhall St Germans village. Part of the former 'Mill House', the original property was split into two cottages around 2016 and now provides a 3 bedroom residence, ideal for first time buyers or families alike. Internally, the accommodation provides a period charm whilst still benefitting from modern fixtures and fittings including modern fitted kitchen with some integrated appliances and 4 piece bathroom suite. Externally, the property includes a courtyard space to the front and a low maintenance garden to the rear laid to lawn. There is a gravel parking area behind the cottage, shared with 30 Mill Road, providing off street parking for both properties (see note on reverse). The accommodation comprises;
