Situation & Description

Believed to date from about 1740, Grade II Listed Castle Farm House is a fine residence built of local carrstone under a steep pitched, clay pantiled roof and situated in sought after Castle Rising, about 3 miles to the North of King's Lynn. The village is fortunate in retaining many of its period dwellings and vernacular buildings ranging from cottages to substantial residences included the great barn, former school house and the international known Norman Castle ruins just to the South of Castle Farm House. The village benefits from local tea rooms, dentist, pub and Norman Church. It is well placed for easy access to King's Lynn and the railway station (with direct links to Cambridge and London's Kings Cross). King's Lynn Golf Club is less than a 5 minute drive and the North West and North Norfolk coast and villages are easily accessed together with nearby Sandringham woods and park. Within just a 5 minute drive are shopping and other amenities of the Woottons.

The accommodation is laid out over the main ground and first floors with a further two bedroom suites situated on the second floor within the spacious attics. Set back from the road and well screened, the house occupies grounds of just under an acre with extensive lawns, a driveway, double garage and a range of useful single storey outbuildings forming an attractive courtyard at the rear.
