This comfortable detached bungalow occupies a hugely convenient position within the heart of central Ryde. A level walk or the briefest of car journeys will see you to the bustling town centre at Ryde where an appealing selection of retail shops and associated facilities await. The bungalow sits towards the rear of its generous plot leaving a swathe of lawned garden and a substantial driveway with turning area to the front. Current planning permissions clearly show options for extensions to increase the already spacious interior if you are looking for a home to potentially grow with your needs. The well proportioned rooms include a lounge/diner overlooking the garden and a kitchen which also enjoys garden access. There are three bedrooms to choose from and a large bathroom with separate walk-in shower for all to use. The former garage has been cleverly converted to form a congenial 'work from home' office and if commuting is ever needed Ryde's mainland high-speed passenger crossings are well within striking distance. This popular coastal town of Ryde is also well known for its miles of sandy beaches, coastal walking routes and of course the iconic pier which projects out into The Solent helping to define our wonderful coastline.
