LOCATION

Coombe Cottage lies within walking distance of the pretty harbour and many village amenities with straightforward access onto the South West Coast Path.

Polperro is steeped in history and famed for its 19th Century salted pilchard industry and legends of smuggling folklore. It is without doubt one of the most beautiful coastal villages in Cornwall, with its colour washed cottages huddled along quaint narrow streets around its famous fishing harbour, along with a selection of small shops, doctors surgery, primary school, pubs and restaurants.

The South West Coast Path and surrounding land in the National Trust's ownership lies only a short distance away and provides fantastic walking and leisure opportunities along this unspoilt coastline.

Nearby, Polruan/Fowey and Looe are also picturesque, each with their own harbours and fishing fleets. Looe has a branch line railway to Liskeard which connects with the main line train to London Paddington (three and a half hours). The deep waters of the nearby Fowey Estuary are well known to the sailing fraternity. There are nearby golf courses including St Mellion and Looe Bindown. Plymouth has a cross channel ferry service and there is also an international airport at Newquay and a Waitrose supermarket at Saltash.
