The Agent that goes the Extra Mile

The opportunity has presented itself to purchase this lovely two-bedroom bungalow situated on the outskirts of the ancient township of Laugharne close to local amenities with good transport links. The property can appeal to many different buyers from someone looking for a home to enjoy your retirement in or for a family just starting out. We highly recommend viewing this bungalow to appreciate all it has to offer.

The property comprises of two double bedrooms, a hallway leading you to the lounge area which invites you to relax and unwind. Continuing your tour, you'll find a bathroom and a separate WC. Off the Lounge the hallway provides storage whilst effortlessly leading you to the heart of this home the kitchen diner. Here, the boundaries between indoor and outdoor living blur, as you gaze out onto the meticulously, maintained approximately 112ft garden, a green oasis that promises tranquillity and endless possibilities for relaxation and entertaining.

Adding to its allure, this property has a unique history, having once been linked with the famous Laugharne Corporation. This legacy only enhances the charm of this home.

Laugharne is situated on the estuary of the River Taf, most famous for being the home of Dylan Thomas from 1949 until his death in 1953 and is thought to have been the inspiration for the fictional town Llaeggub in Under Milk Wood. The town is full of charm with independent stores and pubs as well as beautiful walks and views. Centrally the town boasts a castle which so far has been dated back to the 13th Century but may yet prove older. The town boasts a bilingual primary school and is within 13 miles of the County Town Of Carmarthen and approximately 4 miles from St Clears and the A40. Laugharne really needs to be seen to appreciate the beauty and tranquillity of this picturesque village.
