6 Bedrooms - House

Warren House is an exquisite Victorian semi-detached property located in an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty, within close proximity from the iconic Offa's Dyke Path. This historic residence was once the home of Captain Vivian Hewitt, the pioneering aviator renowned for being the first to fly across the Irish Sea.

This property boasts an abundance of character, preserving many original features that enhance its charm, including Gothic arches in the reception hall, period fireplaces, intricate ceiling roses, classic sash windows, and elegant coving. The entrance porch, a standout feature, was designed by the renowned Sir Clough Williams-Ellis, celebrated for his creation of the iconic Italianate Welsh village, Portmeirion.

A six bedroom semi-detached character property located in the semi-rural village of Bodfari. Being within close proximity to a school and the Dinorben Arms restaurant. Bodfari has easy access to the towns of Denbigh, Ruthin and Mold via the A541, B5429 and further afield via the A55 expressway. The property comprises of a reception hall, living room, kitchen/diner, utility room, laundry room, downstairs cloakroom, six bedrooms and two bathrooms. To the outside is a shared outdoor swimming pool which is not included in the site boundary, but is shared under a license agreement with the attached neighbouring property, outbuilding with two garages and a large rear garden. Viewing is highly recommended to appreciate this fantastic property. EPC Rating E47.
