Perched on the scenic hillside of Clevedon and surrounded by mature woodland, Redwood is an exceptional 1960s mid-century contemporary home. Individually architect-designed, this property showcases a harmonious blend of glass, wood, stone, and paneling, offering a tranquil retreat within beautifully landscaped, private gardens.

On the ground floor, a welcoming dining hall with a striking floating staircase leads into the main living area, where two sets of sliding doors provide a seamless connection to the gardens and frame a triple aspect view over the surrounding woodland. Original mid-century features remain largely intact, celebrating the era's emphasis on natural materials and open, light-filled spaces. This level also includes a snug, convenient cloakroom, utility space, and internal access to an attached tandem garage.

The first floor is perfectly suited for a young, growing family, with four well-proportioned bedrooms, each featuring built-in wardrobes, and a spacious family bathroom.

Outside, the gated grounds wrap around three sides of the house, offering exceptional privacy with mature hedging and trees creating a natural, secluded boundary. Multiple seating areas have been thoughtfully positioned for al fresco dining and relaxation, while well-established borders burst with color throughout the seasons, reflecting years of careful cultivation.

Located just moments from Clevedon's charming town center and its stunning coastal views, Redwood provides a rare combination of architectural significance, natural beauty, and everyday convenience.

Redwood – A mid-century contemporary gem in Clevedon
