GENERAL REMARKS

Whiteways is a fine example of a quintessential country cottage, standing as it does, in this ever popular rural village, with beautiful south facing cottage gardens which have views along the stunning Clun Valley.

The detached stone house is deceptively spacious and has been extremely well cared for by the owners. who have that eye for detail. The internal accommodation briefly comprises 3 good sized bedrooms with a large landing study (formerly a 4th bedroom) and a well appointed shower room. To the ground floor, both comfortable reception rooms overlook the gardens and each have a wood stove, with the dining room open plan to the well equipped kitchen, leading through to the conservatory, which doubles up as a breakfast room and utility with a shower room off.

The gardens are a notable feature of the property, having been well cared for and offering well stocked herbaceous borders, lawns, paths and sitting areas, to enjoy the relative peace of this village location and take in the super views along the valley.
