DESCRIPTION

Halls are favoured with instructions to offer this most interesting parcel of amenity land for sale by private treaty

The land extends, in all, to around 0.58 acres, or thereabouts and is idyllically situated alongside the banks of Colemere, with picturesque views in abundance over this popular Shropshire landmark.

The land, at present, is retained within one enclosure with boundaries provided by fencing and timber gates.

The parcel boasts a number of maturing fir trees, with the remainder of the land having been left for nature to take its course and, as such, features areas of untended growth.

A public footpath runs the length of the land.

It is decidedly rare for land to be offered in this much sought after location, particularly in such a convenient size and, thus, the parcel could serve a variety of onward usages. The land sits close to an established and well-regarded Caravan Park and, therefore, may offer potential for leisure development (Local Authority consent permitting), although no enquiries on this topic have yet been made.

SITUATION

The land lies directly to the south-west of Colemere, one of Shropshire's "most beautiful meres", and nestles within the rural village of the same name. Colemere regularly attracts visitors from across the county, and indeed beyond, who flock to the village to visit the Country Park, with its stunning scenery, rich meadows, and the local sailing club. Colemere sits around 3 miles to the south-east of the town of Ellesmere, which offers a respectable range of local amenities, with the county town of Shrewsbury reachable by car in approximately 30 minutes.
