Firwood Fold, Bolton is thought to host some of Bolton's oldest properties, with this hamlet having history dating back over 500 years, Fold meaning large farmstead and Firwood coming from the word "fieral" meaning covered in tree's, number 15 is thought to be the oldest inhabited property in Bolton. Built in the mediaeval cruck style using 'A' shaped oak trusses with the original roof coverings being thatched. More associated history begins on the 3rd December 1753 when Samuel Crompton was born at no. 10, living in the area for 5 years until he moved to nearby Hall i'th Wood. Some years later Samuel was the inventor of the Spinning Mule which revolutionised spinning in the cotton industry. The property has been modernised over time and has a well presented and stylish interior, whilst still retaining much of the original character, the house is within walking distance of delightful local countryside and a short drive into the town centre and easy access to the motorway network. The house is set in enclosed gardens and the interior briefly comprises; vestibule entrance, living room, dining room, kitchen, first floor three bedrooms and a shower room. Outside there are raised patio gardens with stone flagged patio area, flower beds and further side gardens with stone outhouse.

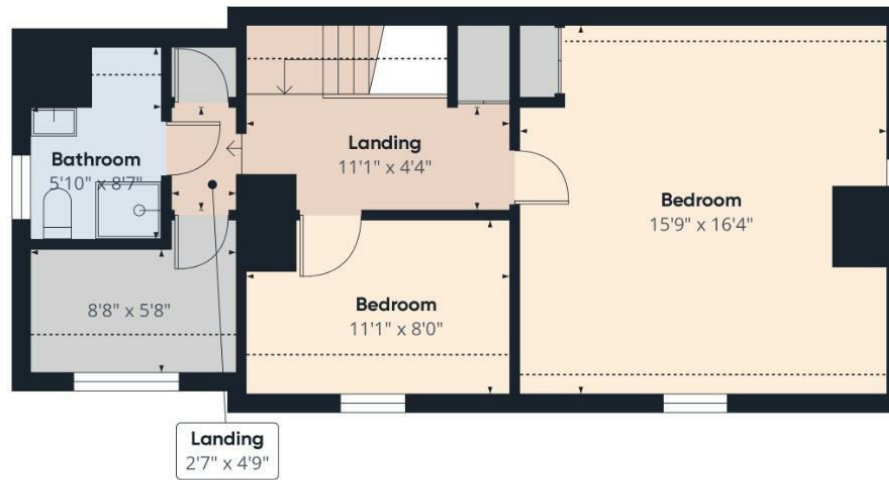

Freehold Property/Council Tax Band E/The property has a Grade II* star listing and is set within a conservation area.
