314 Caernarfon Road is a delightful two-bedroom property just a fifteen-minute walk from Bangor's train station. The dining room is the first room you will encounter when entering this house, with this room containing a three-person dining table with chairs. This makes it a great space in which to socialise and eat. A bright and spacious kitchen comes equipped with many amenities including fitted cupboards for storage, a fridge freezer, an oven with hob and a washing machine. Access to the back garden can also be found here. A very comfortable living area with two large sofas and a coffee table makes yet another fantastic communal space. 314 Caernarfon Road is in a good location and just a few minutes walking will lead you to nearby well-known supermarkets and restaurants. A twenty-minute walk in the other direction will bring you to many of the University buildings, as well as Bangor's high street and all the shops, restaurants and pubs that can be found there.
