42 Glanrafon Road is a modern and spacious home located in the heart of Bangor just across the road from the main University buildings. Spread across two floors, this property comprises four fully furnished double bedrooms, a shower room, a bathroom and a spacious hallway which would be perfect to store bikes or additional belongings. Two of the bedrooms and the shower room are spread across the ground floor with the other two bedrooms, bathroom, large living room and kitchen taking up the first floor. There is also a large car park opposite the property which, with a parking permit, is a convenient and safe place to keep your vehicle. Glanrafon Road is the ideal location for students as not only is it across the road from the main University buildings, but it is a short walk from the High Street and University libraries. This makes it the perfect property for a well-balanced student life.
