Location

The Port of Hull on the north bank of the Humber Estuary is situated only 20 miles from the North Sea. The port is connected by dual carriageway road links to the M62 and the M18 along with connections into the inland waterways system.

Hull is the UK's leading softwood timber port, handling circa. 1 million tonnes. Dry bulks handled by the port include agribulks, chemicals and cement, with specialist paper handling vessels and equipment to meet the needs of Hull's paper and forest products clients. Hull also has the UK's first fully-enclosed cargo handling facility for all-weather working on sensitive cargoes such as steel and bagged products, along with the Hull Container Terminal and devanning operation.
