testing this year, so thats a good start. The windows are UPVC throughout.

Outside, the front garden gives a welcoming first impression, with a good-sized driveway leading to a detached garage. The rear garden is a fantastic size and partly fenced – a blank canvas ready for someone with vision and enthusiasm to create something special.

Stefen Hill is a peaceful, well-established part of Daventry with a friendly community and everything you need close by. Daventry itself is a thriving market town with great transport links via the M1 and nearby train stations at Long Buckby and Northampton, offering direct services to London Euston in under an hour.

You'll find plenty to enjoy locally too – from the twice-weekly market and the new Arc Cinema complex to Daventry Country Park, just a few minutes drive away for a lovely walk or a family afternoon out.

This is one of those homes that's just waiting for the right person to come along and bring it back to life.

If you think that could be you, call the friendly Campbells team today to arrange a viewing.

One of the directors at Campbells has a financial interest in this property – not that this will make any difference, we legally must tell you, that's all.
