Denise White Estate Agents Comments

Introducing an absolutely stunning and charming character property, believed to date back to around 1630 and formerly serving as the village forge. This Grade II listed residence is rich in history and has been sympathetically upgraded by the current owners, enhancing its delightful character and providing high-specification accommodation throughout that complements the era of its construction.

Notable features include stone mullion windows, exposed beams in the ceilings, and a large inglenook stone fireplace, all contributing to the unique charm of this home. The existing accommodation briefly comprises a country-style kitchen/breakfast room leading to a utility room, an excellent-sized lounge with a stunning feature fireplace, and a dining room located at the front of the property.

There are two staircases from the kitchen and dining room leading to the first floor, where you will find three well-proportioned bedrooms, a spacious landing/study area, and a heritage-style bathroom that includes a roll-top bath and a separate shower cubicle.

Directly below the dining room, access to the old former forge is available from the side gable of the house, which offers potential for further accommodation, whether as a study, games room, hobby room, or additional storage space. The loft space also presents the opportunity for conversion, subject to obtaining any necessary planning consent.

One of the main highlights of this property is its delightful gardens, which are generously sized and beautifully complement the residence. The gardens run along the rear of the house and alongside the front aspect, elevated to provide outstanding views of the surrounding area. Gated access leads to a parking and turning area, accessible via a shared driveway that directs you to the rear of the property.
