Denise White Estate Agent Comments

Planning permission is approved for SIX, two bedroom, two bathroom, timber chalets for holiday accommodation which are FREEHOLD. Approximately the site is set in 2.67 Acres.

Planning has been granted by Staffordshire Moorlands District Council, under application reference SMD/2008/1104

The footings and bases are all erected and the shell of one of lodges are in place.

Hoeseasons are keen on taking on the letting of the finished lodges which would yield a high double digit annual income

This is a rare opportunity for a freehold site.

Churnet Grange is located in a prime position on the outskirts of the popular village of Cheddleton, within easy travelling distance to the market town of Leek, Staffordshire.

Setting The Scene

The site situated in a prime position within some stunning countryside. The site is just a 5 minute drive from the historic market town of Leek.

The location is perfect to create the harmonious lifestyle that the idyllic image of owning your own country lodge portrays. Stepping out onto your private patio and into the relaxation of the woodland surrounding, enabling you just to unwind as you take in the fresh moorland air and revitalise as you take a stroll into the Churnet Valley.

Out and About

Much of Cheddleton straddles the A520 immediately to the south of the river Churnet and the Caldron Canal, the site is situated within walking distance to the canal and steam railway line, on the edge of the village of Cheddleton. The Staffordshire village of Cheddleton is situated in the Staffordshire Moorlands, three miles from the market town of Leek. The village offers shops, a Post Office, pubs serving food and a restaurant. Nearby Leek boasts shops including vast antique emporiums, bookshops and galleries, along with restaurants and real ale pubs.
