A Note from Anthology's Chris Powell

These are truly exciting times for Tottenham Hale, and we are proud to be creating the next chapter of Anthology's story with the final piece of land at Hale Village.

Anthology Hale Works is a modern piece of architecture designed by award-winning architects Hawkins Brown, which will become a new landmark building for Tottenham Hale. Whilst the architecture may be contemporary, the building includes symbolic details to pay homage to the area's rich history as a furniture works formerly known as the Lebus Factory.

The industrial past has gradually made way for a mixed and vibrant neighbourhood, which is due to undergo further regeneration in the coming decade. The buzzing urban setting is contrasted with the beautiful tranquil waterways and reservoirs in the Lee Valley that are just moments away.

With Tottenham Hale station right on our doorstep, excellent transport links into central London are right at your fingertips. Upon arriving in your luxurious new home, you will enjoy breath-taking views from your living room as well as our private residents' sky garden located on the 11th floor.

We hope you share our excitement in Hale Works, and invite you to create your new chapter with Anthology.

INTRODUCTION

VILLAGE LIFE

Take in modern architecture or relax in flowing wildflower meadows at London's newest award winning eco district

Anthology Hale Works is the final piece of the puzzle of the greater regeneration scheme Hale Village; an eco district with a strong focus on community and sustainability. This urban village has won multiple awards including the Green Flag Award for its dedication to green spaces on the grounds. But its not just the greenery and distinctive architecture that make this new neighbourhood attractive. Hale Village offers a mixture of student accommodation, private and affordable homes and range of non-residential uses including a gym, supermarket and a nursery.

As the name suggests, community is an important aspect of Hale Village which has a close association with Living Under One Sun. This project allows residents to get involved in the growing and harvesting of fresh food on the nearby allotment. If gardening is not your cup of tea, the local gym offers free running and walking clubs. While the Engine Room Community Centre invites you to participate in various family activities ranging from art workshops and music lessons, to community choir and cooking sessions. Hale Village has got something for everyone.

HISTORY

A HISTORY OF MAKERS

Anthology Hale Works is situated adjacent to the site of the former Harris Lebus furniture factory, the largest in Britain at the start of the 20th Century. The Lebus Company originated in Hull, gravitating to the furniture-making hub of London's East End in the 1850s.

Tottenham Hale established a legacy as an industrial powerhouse more than a century ago, in large part due to the presence of the Harris Lebus factory – once declared the largest furniture manufacturer in the world. The premises, by the River Lea, were built to cope with the huge levels of demand the company was now receiving from households and businesses throughout the country.

Many industries became involved with assisting the war effort from 1914, and furniture manufacturers were no exception. With the loss of many male Lebus workers, local women stepped up, and were able to acquire the skills of their male counterparts. The women were tasked with providing the military with crucial equipment and supplies, such as tents and ammunition boxes, as well as preparing large parts of aircraft.

HISTORY

The first order made in Tottenham was for 1000 satin walnut chests of drawers, selling at 39 shillings/6d. Lebus was a household name and the furniture was desirable for their modern and affordable designs, producing Art Deco furniture in the 1920s and 1930s and the popular Europa collection in the 1960s.

The Lebus company's sites in Tottenham were sold in 1969 but the area is still home to a number of independent furniture workshops. The factory contributed to the war efforts in both World Wars and the increased female workforce produced various items from tent poles and stretchers to aircrafts.

The factory even undertook top secret operations, building replica tanks out of wood. After the war Lebus was part of the government scheme to manufacture Utility furniture, available to newly-weds and people who had lost all their belongings and homes in the war.

The vast Lebus workforce were well catered for, beyond the staff canteen there were on-site doctors and barbers, and a library where employees could access hundreds of books. Lebus educated his employees on the industry and offered college training. Alongside this was a well-known social club and football ground home to Lebus Football Club as well as family Christmas parties and trips to the circus.

LOCAL HEROES

A PLACE FOR HEROES

It's the people that make the community. Meet some of the makers and shakers of Tottenham.

At Anthology we know that a home is not just a location but that it is ultimately about the people living in it. That is why we reach out to the people that enrich their local area, making it a thriving and welcoming place for everyone. We call them our Local Heroes.

In Tottenham we discovered the most inspiring people. There is Leyla, a mathematics teacher who runs the acclaimed charity Living Under One Sun. Or Tim; a dedicated furniture maker who set up his workshop in an industrial estate in Tottenham, enriching homes with his thoughtful creations. Then there is Father Andrew and his team at the Engine Room, running a church and community centre in Hale Village. We dedicated a page to each of our Local Heroes. Take a look.

INTRODUCING LEYLA LAKSARI

Meet the woman behind Living Under One Sun

One of the driving forces behind local community organisation Living Under One Sun is Leyla Laksari, an energetic Mathematics teacher with a strong passion for community led initiatives. Her vision for Living Under One Sun has not changed much since its humble beginnings: fight isolation and create a space where people feel welcomed, working towards a stronger community.

Recently Leyla helped secure the funding to open Tottenham Café Connect, a multi purpose community hub and café which aims to connect people and reduce social isolation. Leyla is committed to creating safe and welcoming places where people are visible and can be positively active as part of the local neighbourhood.

INTRODUCING TIM SMITH

Tim has inherited the spirit of the Lebus factory. In his Tottenham workshop he creates beautiful bespoke furniture.

Tim is a hands on man. Initially trained as an architect he soon realised he was not willing to spend his working hours behind a computer screen. After attending furniture school training in Devon he moved to London where he worked for different companies before setting out on his own. From his new workshop in Warwickshire Tim and his assistant Nick built both beautiful bespoke furniture and a successful business. With most clients located in London, upon meeting his future wife, Tim decided to relocate Create Furniture to the Capital.

Today Tim's daily commute sees him cycle from his home in Hackney through the quiet Lee Valley to his workshop in Tottenham which he shares with other entrepreneurs. Here, in a former coat hanger factory, Tim and Nick continue to design and build furniture for their clients, who are homeowners.

Any tips for future residents? Tim's favourite spots in Tottenham are Beavertown Brewery for the best fresh beer in town and the Lee Valley for a scenic walk or cycle ride.

INTRODUCING FATHER ANDREW WILLIAMS

Meet the man behind The Engine Room

Father Andrew has been a priest for over 25 years and has spent the last four as Priest Missioner working at the Engine Room, an organisation at the heart of Hale Village.

The Engine Room is a Community Centre for all people, those with a faith and those without. It offers spaces for people to celebrate significant moments in their lives as well as hosting a parent and toddler group, art workshops, music lessons, holiday activities for the kids and the church of St Francis.

Andrew's passion is ensuring that the work of The Engine Room is not simply restricted to the building itself. Partnerships with many other local organisations ensure that the whole of Tottenham Hale is encouraged to contribute to the amazing community that is developing here.

RIVER LEA AND LOCKS

A Lively Bit of Water

The River Lea is the ground on which the boater community moves. Essential to its mobility are the locks which bring both boats and passers-by to a halt. This simple yet ingenious construction has allowed travellers for generations to overcome obstacles in height on their route. This allowed industry to thrive in the area.

Next to Stonebridge lock you can find a café serving snacks and refreshments. Urban fishers, avid rowers, houseboat owners, cyclists and walkers seem to naturally meet at these points.

LIVING UNDER ONE SUN

A thriving community project

Living Under One Sun is a local success story. In 2005 the project was founded by a group of women of different cultural backgrounds with the initial aim to overcome isolation and create a safer environment in Tottenham. Since then the project has grown into a much loved 'village square', attracting people of all ages and backgrounds.

In 2008 the project registered as a non-profit company and transformed part of the former marshes into a community allotment.

The latest addition to the charity is the Tottenham Café Connect situated on a former bowling club and green and serving as a community hub and café. Our humble Local Hero Leyla Laksari, who we met earlier, is one of the founders of the centre.

THE ENGINE ROOM

The hub of the community

In the making since 2013, The Engine Room was a key step towards creating a combined community centre and church at the heart of the Hale Village, led by the Diocese of London. St Francis Church, the church part of The Engine Room is the first new Church of England church in 40 years and we are proud to offer this joint approach to Tottenham Hale.

The community hub is housed in a purpose built space which hosts the church, community space, and a 36-place nursery with a community café - plenty of room to offer the whole of the community as well as those within Hale Village.

A New Generation of Woodworkers

Helen Welch was born in Islington but when her furniture making career began in 1984 she was increasingly drawn to Tottenham by its local wood suppliers and rich history of furniture making. After more than 25 years in the industry Helen set out to open her own woodworking school. Here, she and her two colleagues train adults in the art and craft of traditional furniture making. The classes are kept deliberately small to ensure that students get most out of their time spend in the workshops. The school is open Monday to Friday with regular evening sessions and Sunday classes.

OUR PROMISE

OUR PROMISE

GETTING TO KNOW EACH OF OUR CUSTOMERS PERSONALLY

We want to treat people as we wish to be treated ourselves. We listen to our customers and are committed to understanding their needs, so we can delight them with our service.

TAKING PERSONAL RESPONSIBILITY FOR OUR CUSTOMERS' NEEDS

Every one of us at Anthology is personally responsible for fulfilling the needs of our customers. If a customer contacts Anthology, the person who receives the contact will take responsibility for seeing that their questions are answered.

ACKNOWLEDGING AND REWARDING CUSTOMER LOYALTY

We believe that by understanding our customers and providing outstanding service, they will recommend us to their friends. When they do this, we will reciprocate with genuine appreciation.

CARING ABOUT OUR NEIGHBOURS

We take responsibility to create homes that enhance neighbourhoods for our customers and their neighbours to enjoy. As well as knowing our customers, we are committed to knowing the communities in which we work. We will strive to earn the trust of our neighbours and we want them to be able to openly credit the places we create.

TAKING CARE OF TOMORROW BY BEING SUSTAINABLE TODAY

We are committed to being sustainable and we know our customers want to be too. We will take the time to explain the sustainability features of the new homes we create and help our customers to live there in a sustainable manner.

CARING ABOUT THE LEGACY WE LEAVE BEHIND

When our customers buy an Anthology home, they are contributing to a story that will grow and create lasting value, both for themselves and for the community around them. We are conscious of the legacy we leave behind and we want to be known for creating outstanding places for Londoners to live in.
