BURROWS LANE, FRODSHAM/ALVANLEY BORDER

The house has a great sense of space and light. The highlight is the open plan living/dining and sitting room, extending to around 40 feet in length, and the natural hub of the house where people can socialise and flow out to the garden.

The kitchen is centrally located and fitted with high end cabinets and appliances with an adjacent utility/boot room. The ground floor also includes a home office and cloakroom/WC and a welcoming hallway.

Over the two upper floors are five spacious bedrooms and three bathrooms. The main bedroom suite occupies the entire top floor and has panoramic views over the gardens and surrounding countryside. There are double glazed windows throughout and an LPG gas fired central heating/hot water system.

The plot extends to just over 0.5 of an acre and is approached through an electrically operated remote controlled gate. This leads to extensive driveway parking and a substantial brick built double garage.

The garden are private and enclosed and attract all manner of bird and wildlife due to the adjacent farmland and countryside. There is a formal area with Indian stone paved terraces for al fresco entertaining and a further paved area, ideal for a hot tub. The lower area of the garden is more natural and includes a large area of grass with well established hedges and a trees.
