THE PROPERTY

Since its construction in the 1970's, various changes and improvements have been made to the interior including refitting the kitchen and 'opening it up' into the dining room, installing oak doors and flooring on the ground floor, and updating the bathroom and ground floor cloakroom/WC. As a result, this relatively modern home is bright, attractively appointed, and well laid out. On the first floor, the spacious master bedroom stands out, with an adjacent dressing room partitioned off and ready for the installation of an en-suite bathroom to one's own specifications. The kitchen benefits from fully integrated appliances, including a washing machine, dishwasher and fridge/freezer.

A particular highlight of the property is the garden, which is sunny, level, enclosed, and perfect for families, couples, those retired and pet owners. There is direct pedestrian access from the garden to the garage via a side door, in addition to vehicular access from the front. A wide driveway provides off-street parking for 2 vehicles, excluding the garage space.

THE LOCATION

Mawnan Smith, The Helford River and the coastline leading to Maenporth lies within an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty and is regarded as one of the most unspoilt picturesque locations within Cornwall (and arguably the whole of the South West of England). The house is within a minute's walk of the Carwinion Woods Nature Reserve, leading to the South West Coast Path and stunning Helford Passage Cove, a sheltered haven where boating enthusiasts are in their element whether they are paddle boarders, dinghy sailors or experienced yacht owners. Mawnan Smith village centre (2 minutes walk) hosts an excellent range of amenities including a Public House, village stores/post office, car garage, cafe, restaurant, electrical store, and more. The excellent Mawnan Smith Primary School is within sight of the property, just a few hundred yards away..
