Tredington, CV36 4NJ

The Property

Prominently set in the heart of Tredington, a delightful village on the Warwickshire and Cotswold borders. Orchard Cottage was constructed in the 1930's, and was designed to nestle into the established setting near to the village church. Having been thoughtfully extended, increasing the space and versatility available, the property now requires a course of remodelling to maximise its potential. Occupying gardens extending to approximately 0.4 acres, this detached home requires viewing to be fully appreciated and in brief, the accommodation comprises;

Entering, you are greeted by an inviting dining hall, with flagstone flooring and stairs leading off with under storage. This links through to the kitchen, which is equipped with a bank of storage, space for white goods and a breakfast table and chairs. An inner door then leads through to a useful covered lean too.

There are two further generous reception rooms, including a pleasant sitting room with dual aspect windows and a feature stone fireplace. The other serves as a multi-purpose space and has a second staircase to the upper floor, where there are four bedrooms, one en-suite and the principal bathroom. Access to the loft is provided by bedroom four.

Externally, there are various brick-built stores attached to the garage, which provides secure tandem storage for vehicles. The gardens are impressive, extend to approximately 0.4 acre in all and provide a delightful leafy backdrop. An expanse of lawn is enclosed by mature trees and a mature orchard occupies the far eastern boundary. A walled fore garden provides a degree of privacy to front and sits adjacent to the garage.
