ABOUT THIS HOME

 GUIDE PRICE £1,250,000 - £1,500,000 ***

Situated on the historic Walleys Court grounds, this unique barn conversion boasts instant curb appeal with wide steps leading to an oversized Accoya entrance door and full-height windows. The entrance hall features a curved brick bar, seating area, underfloor heating, and arched windows overlooking the stunning open-plan living space. The open-plan living space boasts Kardean flooring, colour-changing LED lighting, Sonos surround sound, a spacious sitting/games area with a feature brick wall and a double sided fireplace giving a degree of separation between the sitting and dining areas, but the open plan nature would make this an ideal space for sociable owners.

The Smallbone kitchen has white gloss units, quartz worktops, Siemens steam ovens, integrated fridge freezers, a wine fridge, and an induction hob with an electric chargrill. The adjacent utility area provides laundry facilities and garden access.

The ground floor has two double bedrooms with en-suite showers, a cloakroom, and a boot room. One bedroom is ideal for elderly family members or adult children with its independent external door. The other would make a great office or play room.

Upstairs, the principal bedroom is a show stopper with a seating area, beamed and vaulted ceiling, dressing area, and en-suite bathroom featuring a clawfoot bath and walk-in shower. There are two more double bedrooms, each with en-suite facilities with one having a mezzanine floor making a great child's hideaway. The property sits on a plot of just under half an acre (tbv). The highlight is the entertaining space at the garden's end. The "Viking Arms" bar has a seating area, cinema screen, rustic kitchen, and huge terrace with countryside views. There's also a pergola-covered deck with a fire pit, a toilet building, and a 'rum shack' with a drop-down hatch. There is also an extensive lawn, chicken coop, basement plant room and parking for numerous vehicles to the front.
