BURNSIDE HOUSE

LOCATION

Kilmarnock is situated in East Ayrshire and serves as the main administrative centre of the Council. The town sits approximately 23 miles south west of Glasgow, 15 miles north east of Ayr and can be accessed by the main arterial route of the M77 motorway.

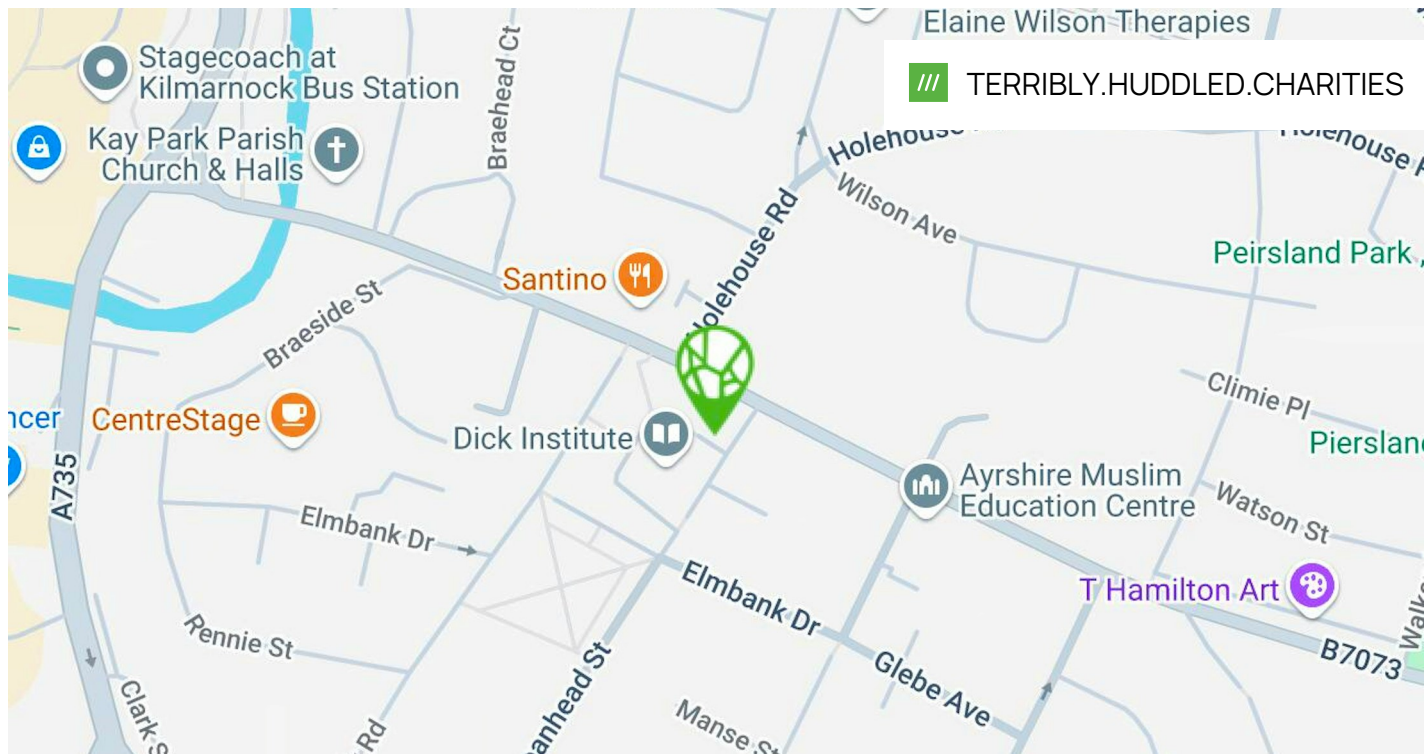

Burnside is located in a designated cultural area to the west and close to Kilmarnock town centre. It is situated in a prominent position on the north side of London Road (B7073) immediately at its junction with Holehouse Road. London Road connects Kilmarnock town centre to Kilmarnock Bypass (A77).

Kilmarnock Rail Station takes less than 5 minutes to drive. The famous Dick Institute sits opposite the property and there are a wide array of amenities within walking distance. The surrounding area is predominantly residential in nature.

DESCRIPTION

The property comprises a substantial, traditional detached hybrid dwelling formed over 3 levels. The property was previously occupied as a 4 star guest house called Burnside Hotel, originally built around 1815. The 3 storey extension to the rear was completed around 1892.

The property has been lived-in as a family home since 2003 and is ideally suited for reversion to a hotel, Airbnb or similar type use. The property is in a conservation area and is not listed. The site area is approximately 0.45 acres.

ACCOMMODATION

The accommodation comprises the following areas:

BUILDING TYPE	SQ FT	SQ M
Hotel/guest house	4,424	411

The accommodation comprises a welcoming reception hallway allowing access to two impressive front facing bay window reception/living rooms with open aspects and space for dining. A recently refurbished kitchen offers a range of wall and base units, space for appliances and direct access outdoors via patio.

The extension to the rear on the ground floor includes an office/library, bedroom, shower room and utility room. Seven bedrooms (5 with en-suites), a bathroom and shower room completes the first floor accommodation. The second floor includes 4 bedrooms, shower room and WC.

Well kept landscaped and level garden grounds to the rear benefit from a detached block with 3 brick/stone storage sheds. A driveway to the front and side of the property provides off street parking for circa 12 cars and leads to the tandem garage.
