About The Property

An idyllic, 3/4 bed traditional detached stone cottage, sitting on just over a quarter of an acre plot, with 3 reception rooms and potential for annexe (STP), off-road parking, and a wildlife garden. Situated within the hamlet of Crosswell at the foothills of the Preseli Mountains. All of which is only a 15 min drive from the sought-after coastal town of Newport, with many stunning beaches to choose from around Newport Bay and coastal paths of Cardigan Bay on the west coast of Wales.

Comprising: Wooden conservatory leading into the traditional kitchen with tiled flooring and a wood-fired "Lincar Ilaria range" boiler used for cooking and providing hot water and central heating for the home, with a useful wood store to side, a sink/drain, wall and base units and space for a dining table and chairs, space and plumbing for washing machine & dishwasher, with a drying area above the door in the conservatory, and an additional external door to the side of the kitchen. This room also benefits from a dining and sofa area, with the afternoon sun streaming in (when sunny).

A door from the kitchen leads you into the spacious lounge with stairs hidden behind a wood-panelled wall to the first floor, an additional storage cupboard, and a beautiful inglenook fireplace housing the log burner. This characterful room also has space for a dining table as well as a spacious cosy seating area. From here you walk through a door into a dining room/possible additional bedroom with high ceilings. Flows into a quaint parlour with original features offering a variety of uses, with a slate floor, a feature inglenook including a bread oven, underfloor heating pipes installed, traditionally rendered stone walls, and an exterior door out to the parking area to the side of the cottage. These 2 reception rooms lend themselves to an annex.

Details continued;

The upstairs attic space above the parlour room is in the process of being converted into a mezzanine floor to be used as an additional/guest bedroom or office space, with a large balcony window that has been set into the roof, this space is in need of completing to the new homeowner's needs, it has restricted head space in places and does not have a staircase installed.

From the lounge is a staircase behind a door up to the first floor and the family bathroom. From the landing, the doors open into three double bedrooms, two with wood-panelled walls and one with a built-in cupboard. The master with double aspect views over the rear gardens and to the Preseli Mountains beyond, with an airing cupboard housing the Thermal Store water tank heated from the wood-fired range in the kitchen. The thermal store enables central heating & hot water on demand/timer using an ordinary CH controller, whether the stove is going or not. Between the bathroom and master bedroom, there is a built-in cupboard with hanging and shelving. The family bathroom has a w/c, hand wash hand basin, a bath with shower over and a cubicle with an electric shower.

Externally:
The cottage has a feature low stone wall to the front, with two driveways located at the side of the grounds, there is parking for over 4 cars and a pathway around the rear of the cottage to access an additional outbuilding, log store and additional storage areas, there is also access to the road from this side. There is a good-sized rear garden, separated into 3 areas: Steps and paths lead up from the easy to manage lower garden with parking to a vegetable garden & shed above with mature fruit trees and bushes, & a further lawned garden with shed (the top two gardens could be combined to make a larger connected space). The garden is bounded by mature trees with glimpses of far-reaching views of the countryside and the Preseli Mountains.

This traditional cottage is filled with character and charm, this is an opportunity not to be missed.
