About The Property

Nestled in the charming village of Glynarthen, Llandysul, this small holding property is a true gem waiting to be discovered. Boasting three reception rooms, three bedrooms, and three bathrooms, this traditional farmhouse exudes character and warmth with stunning, far-reaching countryside views.

Glynarthen is a small village set in pretty open countryside with an active chapel and vestry. Situated approx 10 miles from the popular market town of Cardigan and approx 8 miles from Newcastle Emlyn, both of which offer a wide range of local amenities, attractions and schools. Glynarthen is also within easy driving distance of the stunning sandy beaches of Aberporth and the coastline of Cardigan Bay, West Wales.

Step inside to find original features that will take your breath away - from the elegant parquet flooring in the dining room to the rugged beauty of exposed stone walls in the lounge.

From the main hall, stairs access the first floor and doors go through to the lounge on one side and the kitchen/breakfast room on the other. The lounge is partially divided into two spaces with an archway, a door leading into the dining room, and an opening into the study, the wood burning stove sits within the inglenook fireplace on a slate hearth, perfect for those colder winter evenings, and the attached study is a useful space for home workers, with exposed beams and stone walls.

The kitchen/breakfast room is fitted with matching wall and base units, a wine chiller, gas hob with an extractor over, eye level oven and grill, built in fridge and a sink with drainer.

A door leads to the utility room, with a stable door out to the side of the property, and fitted with wall & base units, sink, space and plumbing for a washing machine, a built-in dishwasher, and housing the Grant combi oil boiler which serves the hot water and central heating.

The ground floor shower room, conveniently located off the utility room, is a practical touch for those busy days spent tending to the livestock outdoors

The dining room is accessed off the kitchen and has original parquet flooring, a beautiful feature fireplace with cast iron surround and wooden mantel, sitting on a slate hearth. From here a door leads into the conservatory which is a lovely addition offering a peaceful space to sit and enjoy views over the rear garden.

On the first floor are three bedrooms, with the master bedroom benefitting from an en-suite bathroom with a door leading into a very useful room which could be used as a dressing room or storage space (both the en-suite and the dressing room have some restricted head room). The other two bedrooms are one small double and a single (with attic access), and all three rooms offer scenic views over the open countryside. The family bathroom has a bath, sink, toilet and airing cupboard with shelving. This room also has some restricted head room.

Externally:

Accessed through a gated entrance off an unclassified country road, the property offers ample off-road parking, two agricultural outbuildings, ideal for storing farm machinery or creating internal stabling for your animals, and two stables. The gently rolling pastureland has been kept organic over the years and is divided into four stock fenced paddocks/fields, each offering natural shelter along the hedgerows and road access from two points. With water available in the rear paddocks. Equestrian enthusiasts will be delighted to discover the former ménage, now grassed over but easily restorable for those who enjoy horse riding, which is accessed just to the side of the stables.

The garden area to the rear of the property is a private space which is a lovely place to sit and relax, or to create some space for outside dining. Steps lead up from the drive onto another garden space which is mainly lawn, with mature shrubs and hedging. A drive leads up to the top field from the side of the first agricultural barn, and the other fields are accessed behind the stables.

This property also benefits from no public footpaths or rights of way crossing over it, which is a rare advantage.

Whether you're looking for a peaceful retreat in the countryside or dreaming of starting your own smallholding, this property has the potential to make your rural living dreams come true.
