About The Property

Looking for a rural home with a touch of coastal magic? This property offers a unique opportunity with two homes, 7.48 acres of land, and endless possibilities for family living or income potential.

This charming property, located in the tranquil hamlet of Penbontrhydyfothau, offers a rare opportunity to enjoy rural living with a coastal touch. Set in around 7.48 acres of land, this smallholding includes two separate homes: a spacious stone house and an attached cottage, both full of character and original features. Whether it's used as a family home, for multi-generational living, or as an income-generating property, the possibilities are endless.

The main house, a pretty stone-built property, offers plenty of space with four bedrooms and two reception rooms, making it ideal for comfortable family living. Original touches, such as quarry-tiled floors, exposed beams, and a striking kitchen fireplace with ovens, add warmth and character to every room. The kitchen and dining area features ample space for family meals, with a working fireplace (original ovens no longer in use) adding a rustic touch. There's a separate utility room with plumbing for washing machines and space for storage. The upstairs includes two double bedrooms, two single bedrooms (one with some restricted headroom), and a family bathroom. The property's rear garden, with its patio area and extensive lawn, is perfect for outdoor entertaining or simply enjoying the beautiful views of the surrounding countryside.

Next to the main house is Bryn Y Gof, a one-bedroom cottage that is perfect for guests or could easily be used as a rental property for additional income. The cottage is full of original charm, from the bespoke wooden kitchen cupboards to the wood-burning stove in the lounge area. The open-plan living space flows into a spacious bedroom upstairs, with a freestanding bath in the room and an en-suite shower room.

Outside, the cottage has its own private garden and parking space, offering independence from the main house.

Externally:

The property's 7.48-acre field is a true highlight. Accessed from both the main house, the cottage and via two gates off the road, the field offers an idyllic escape with panoramic views of the valley, perfect for leisurely walks, growing your own vegetables, or keeping animals. The field has a series of walking paths, leading to a tranquil clearing with a picnic bench and a rope swing – an ideal spot for relaxation. The field is bordered by mature hedging and trees, providing privacy and security.

The location is equally appealing, being just a short drive from the popular beaches of Llangrannog, Cwmtedu, and New Quay. With its coastal beauty and rural serenity, the area offers the best of both worlds, with easy access to the Ceredigion Coastal Path and vibrant local communities. New Quay is just a short drive away, offering a range of amenities, including shops, restaurants, and a primary school.

With ample parking, a garage, and a selection of outbuildings, this property also offers practical advantages. The tarmac driveway accommodates several vehicles, while the mature gardens surrounding both the main house and the cottage add to the appeal. The potential for this property is huge – whether looking for a countryside escape or an income-generating venture, this is a rare opportunity to own a piece of rural paradise.
