About The Property

Tucked in off the road and facing the coast on the outskirts of the charming seaside village of Llangrannog, this detached house, steeped in history, presents a unique opportunity for those seeking a blend of character and modern comfort. Originally built in 1846 as a navigation school for the renowned Sarah Jane Rees, also known by her bardic name, Cranogwen, this property boasts a rich heritage and still has the original school bell tower in place (minus the bell). With one reception room, three bedrooms, and two bathrooms, this home offers a perfect balance of space and functionality. Convenience is key with a ground floor bedroom and shower room, while the first-floor hosts two additional bedrooms and a bathroom, providing ample accommodation for residents and guests alike. Imagine waking up to the serene views of the sea through the wooded valley, a true delight for nature enthusiasts.

Llangrannog is a gem of West Wales with its vibrant community, a cosy pub, cafes, and beautiful beaches. It is a lovely place to escape from the hustle-bustle of life, the village of Brynhoffnant is a short drive up the hill and has a Londis shop and petrol station and a pub, nearby Cardigan town & colourful Aberaeron are only a 20-minute drive away.

Entry to the property is through a door into the boot room/utility area with slate tiled flooring, worktop with storage under and space/plumbing for a washing machine and tumble dryer, a door into the ground floor shower room and an opening into the inner hall.

The ground floor shower room had a corner shower, a toilet and a unique, bespoke wash hand basin sitting upon an old school desk which has been cleverly transformed to keep the historical character of the property's origins.

The inner hall has a useful storage cupboard and doors into the ground floor bedroom and the open plan lounge/diner.

The ground floor bedroom is a useful double with windows out to the rear of the property.

Details Continued:

The open-plan living/dining area seamlessly combines a kitchen, ideal for both everyday living and entertaining. There is ample space for a family dining table, with floor length windows and a door to the front giving access to the front patio and to take in and appreciate the distant sea views down through the valley to Llangrannog and Cardigan Bay. From the dining area an opening leads into the kitchen, with matching base units with work tops over and open shelving above, a freestanding electric oven, space for a fridge, and an opening above one of the worktops which overlooks the lounge area and provides a breakfast bar on the other side if needed, perfect for entertaining. The dining area opens up into the lounge which has a vaulted ceiling with picture window on the pretty feature gable end wall, and a STUV 8kw wood burning stove on a slate hearth with a pretty wooden surround.

Stairs lead up to the first floor, with a landing and a gallery area which overlooks the lounge below. The landing has a useful airing cupboard and storage and houses the hot water tank with immersion heater, and leads to the two double bedrooms, both with beautiful views down the valley to the sea, and both with built-in open wardrobes and shelving. The family bathroom comes with a toilet, a wash hand basin set on top of a slate windowsill and a deep short roll-top bath which is a luxurious and compact free-standing bath with a Victorian-inspired design and a modern twist, adding that extra special bit of class to this property.

The ground floor features electric underfloor heating, complemented by wall-mounted electric heating, ensuring warmth and comfort throughout, while the first floor has electric wall panelled heaters.

Externally:

Step outside to discover a patio at the front, offering distant sea views, and further, ascend the steps to a side patio with a charming seating area, perfect for enjoying a morning coffee or evening sunset. The proximity to Llangrannog beach, just a leisurely stroll away, adds to the allure of this property, making it an ideal retreat for beach lovers.

There is ample off-road parking on a gravel driveway for 2/3 cars, with a gated access to the rear of the property, perfect for storing paddle boards, kayaks or other beach equipment.

In summary, this historic property not only offers a comfortable living space but also a glimpse into the past, making it a truly special place to call home. Don't miss the chance to own a piece of history in this picturesque coastal village
