About The Property

This is a beautifully presented home with land and business potential. This traditional stone-fronted house offers 5 bedrooms, 6 acres of pastureland, a substantial workshop, and a static caravan, all within easy reach of Newport and the stunning Pembrokeshire Coast.

This detached stone-fronted house offers a blend of character and practicality, with generous living spaces, versatile accommodation, and excellent potential for those looking to run a business from home. Set on the outskirts of Newport, within the Pembrokeshire Coast National Park, the property enjoys an appealing rural setting while remaining accessible to local amenities and the coast.

A gravelled driveway leads through double gates, curving around a central raised lawn before opening into an extensive parking area. The house itself is well-proportioned, offering a balance of traditional features and modern comforts. The main entrance opens into an L-shaped hall with parquet-style laminate wood effect laminate flooring and exposed stonework. Off to one side, the dining room provides a comfortable space with dual-aspect windows. The heart of the home is the kitchen and dining area, where a modern kitchen fitted in 2024 with granite worktops, a Belfast sink with a Quooker tap, and an electric Aga, there is an integral dishwasher, full-height fridge freezer, microwave and eye-level electric oven. The central island also has a granite worktop which is underlit, and has a built-in induction hob, a socket and a charging point. The open-plan layout enhances the connection between the kitchen and dining space, making it a practical and sociable area. A separate rear hallway leads to the study or optional fifth bedroom, alongside a useful utility room with a switch wall and base units, a sink space and plumbing for a washing machine, dryer and WC. From the rear hallway is also a door to the rear garden.

The inner hallway gives access to the kitchen, stairs to the first floor and off to the lounge. The spacious lounge is positioned at the far end of the property, features a striking multi-fuel burner with a slate hearth and wooden mantel which adds to the character of the space and has French doors opening to the garden.

Upstairs off the landing with an airing cupboard are four well-sized bedrooms that offer flexible accommodation. Three of these benefit from en-suite shower rooms, while the main family bathroom includes a jacuzzi bath, a separate shower cubicle, and a pedestal basin. A Juliet balcony in the master bedroom provides a stunning view of the surrounding land, and has built in wardrobes. Two of the bedrooms also enjoy views towards the Nevern Estuary.

Externally, the house is complemented by extensive grounds extending to approximately six acres. A paved patio at the rear leads onto a lawned garden, where a wooden shed and playhouse add to the outdoor amenities. A pond, which naturally fluctuates in water levels, sits within the landscape, contributing to the property's rural charm.

One of the standout features of this property is the substantial workshop/garage, offering excellent potential for storage, a studio, or other business uses, this is adapted into different areas there is a workshop area, and 2 spacious office areas, the current owners run a business from this premises so could be easily adapted for a variety of uses. An overflow accommodation static caravan is also included, with its own electricity supply, providing extra accommodation or an additional income stream.
