About The Property

Looking for a manageable bungalow within a village setting, with Cardigan Bay and West Wales countryside on the doorstep? This two-bed property offers off-road parking, attached garage, a functional layout, and the chance to put a personal stamp on the garden.

Set on a corner plot in the heart of Cilgerran, this detached bungalow offers a practical layout and a straightforward garden space with room to make it one's own. Positioned in a popular village location with easy access to both woodland and river walks, the property ticks the boxes for first-time buyers or those looking to downsize within West Wales. The location also benefits from a short walking route, through the Wildlife Park, into the historic town of Cardigan, right on the edge of beautiful Cardigan Bay.

Inside, the layout is simple and functional. A central hallway gives access to all rooms. The lounge/diner is a good size, with patio doors opening onto the rear garden and a feature fireplace adding a focal point to the space. It's a room that catches the light and works well as a combined living and dining area.

The kitchen sits just off the hall and offers matching wall and base units, a gas hob with extractor over, and an eye-level electric oven for convenience. There's space for an under-counter fridge/freezer, space for a kitchen table, and a door leads through to the utility area. In the utility, there's a worktop with storage underneath, plumbing for a washing machine, and access to the airing cupboard. A stable door leads out to the garden, making it a practical space for day-to-day use.

Two double bedrooms are positioned at the front of the property. The main bedroom has built-in wardrobes and dual aspect windows, bringing in plenty of natural light. The second bedroom is also a comfortable double. The home benefits from both a family bathroom with a bath, basin, and toilet, and a separate shower room with cubicle, basin, and toilet—ideal for guests or busy mornings.

Externally:

Outside, there's a drive for one vehicle and an attached garage, and a small lawn area wrapping around the front and side. A ramped path leads to the front door, which is handy for accessibility. Paths run along both sides of the bungalow and lead into the rear garden.

The garden at the back has potential for improvement and personal touches. It currently features raised beds, a decked seating area in the corner, and a small greenhouse which could be brought back into use with a bit of care. There's also the remains of another greenhouse and a timber shed for garden tools or storage. There is also a door giving rear access into the attached garage.

For anyone looking for a sensibly sized home in a well-served village setting within reach of the coastline and countryside of West Wales, this property offers a balanced mix of practicality and potential.
